Wellington Branch Holds Sensory Friendly Fall Festival

The Wellington Branch will hold a Sensory Friendly Fall Festival on Sun, Nov 17, at 1:30 pm. The festival is open for all to attend and will celebrate the season with games, crafts, face painting and more for children and teens, ages 0-17, with special needs and their families.

“At the Palm Beach County Library System, we have the opportunity to connect communities through various activities and events,” said Wellington Branch Children’s Specialist Stacey Shiels-Watts. “When we advocate and spotlight groups that may have boundaries to services, we can inspire thought and erase preconceived notions.”

“This does not only benefit those with special needs, but it strengthens the Library System and the community as a whole,” said Shiels-Watts.

To preregister, call 561-790-6070. The Wellington Branch Library is located at 1951 Royal Fern Drive, Wellington 33414.
