The Centers of Excellence

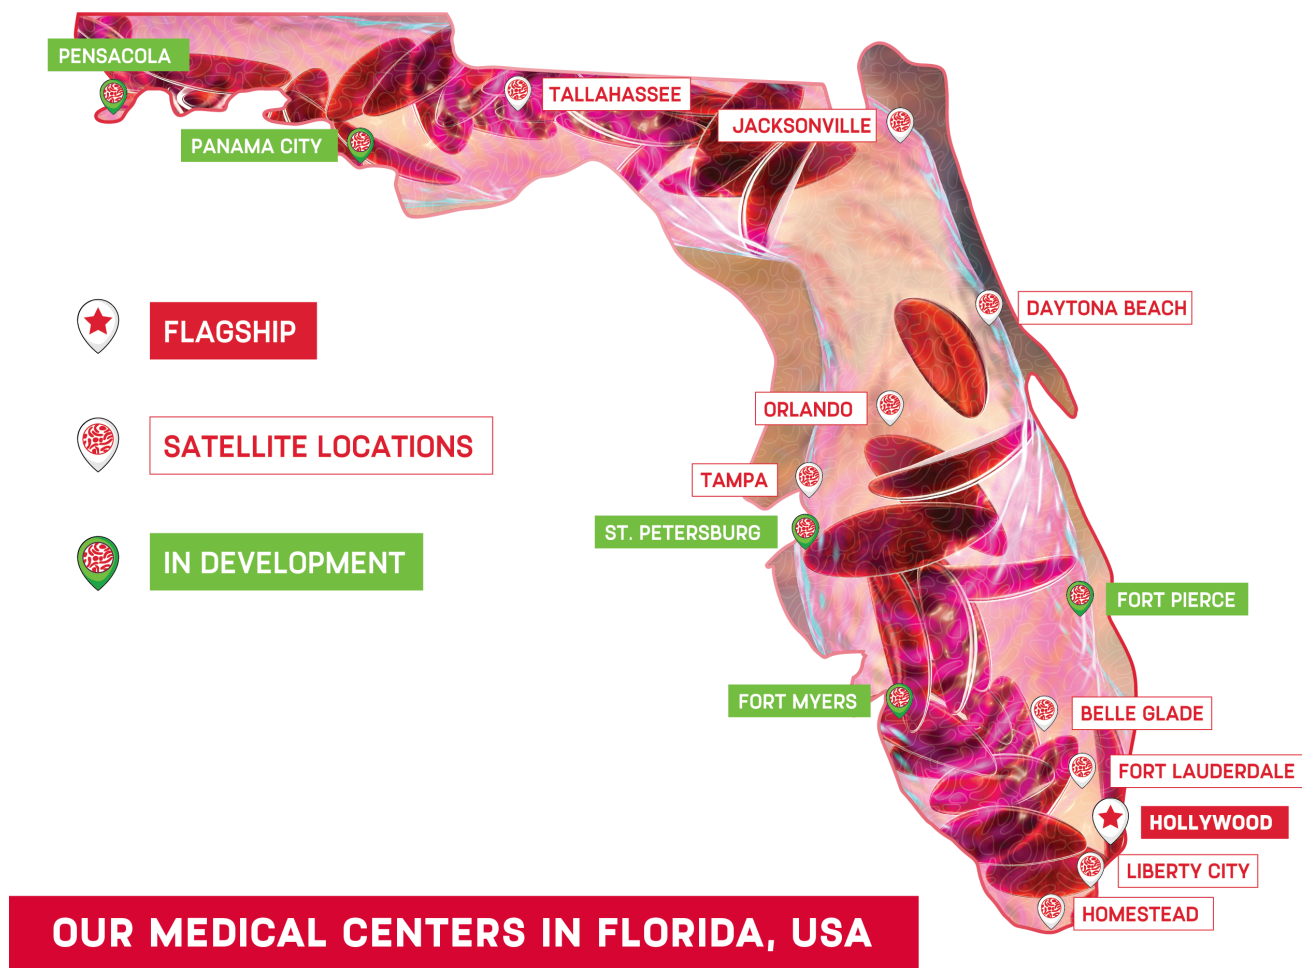

Find a Center of Excellence Near You

We are currently accepting new patients at each of our Centers of Excellence located across the state of Florida.

Each of the Centers is a patient-centered medical home for those living with sickle cell disease. Your dedicated team includes a hematologist-oncologist as well as sickle cell disease-trained nurse practitioner and nurse. Our services include patient-tailored pain management, care coordination, chronic care management, preventive health services and ongoing quality of life improvement evaluations.

To help you address all the aspects of your life that the disease affects, we provide social support including insurance counseling, pharmacy coverage assistance, disability evaluations, and social resource needs assessment. We also offer programs to help you stick to your treatment recommendations, reduce visits to the emergency room and reduce inpatient hospitalizations.
